Don't put people in boxes

Who we are is shaped by so many things.

No one feature defines us.

We are all human.

How can we see people for who they truly are?

- What can we do as individuals that helps us to see who people really are?
- What can we do as a class that helps us to value all those around us?
- What can we do as a school that helps us to recognise the worth in everyone?
